THE
POOR MAN'S GUARDIAN.
A Weekly Newspaper
FOR THE PEOPLE.
ESTABLISHED, CONTRARY TO "LAW," TO TRY THE POWER OF "MIGHT" AGAINST "RIGHT."

No. 1. Saturday, July 9, 1831. [Price 1d.]

Friends, Brethren, and Fellow-Countrymen,

OUR "appeal" as it is called—rather the appeal of our friends—has turned out as we anticipated;—the conviction of Messrs. Birnie, Hall, and Robinson has been confirmed:—it has been decided by their "sapient worshippers," that distinct and nameless papers written by the same author, and published irregularly, form only one connected paper, bearing one and the same name, and published at stated periods—or, in fine, that the papers written by the "POOR MAN'S GUARDIAN," are within the meaning of Castlereagh's Act. Be it so; we wished to avoid "the law" as we would a very nuisance; we wished—though at great inconvenience—to keep as close to as possible without actually trespassing on the common of which this act of tyranny has deprived us,—but we find it impossible; "the law" is made behind our backs—without our consent—kept secret from us—and when discovered, is unintelligible,—or, whether intelligible or not, it is to be interpreted by the paid servants of those who enforce it—and, consequently, escape from it is hopeless! Be it so, we say; we are prepared for the fight; it is a mere legal one on the part of our persecutors, but a moral one on ours; we know that we must suffer, but we are content to do so for the benefit of our fellow-creatures; we have before our eyes the fatal examples of all who have ever advocated the truth;—but we shrink not from the worst,—be our reward the cross of agony itself, on which Christ expiated his "SEDITION;" and be our doctrines, like his—pure and just as they are—rejected by all mankind; or, be they like his, only received to be distorted—even by those who profess the most to venerate them—into an authority the press, too, of the IGNORANT and the POOR! we have taken upon ourselves its protection, and we will never abandon our post: we will die rather.

The fight is begun, and we must cast off the trammels both of disguise and fear; we cannot avoid the struggle, and we must meet it manfully:—no more evasion; we will not trespass, but deny the authority of our "lords" to enclose the common against us; we will demand our right, nor treat but with contempt the despotic "law" which would deprive us of it; we will trample it under our feet—and resist to the last any power that may attempt to enforce it.

To you—friends and brethren—you whose cause we are advocating—whose rights we demand—whose liberties we defend—whose interests we espouse—to you we now appeal, not to let us fight our perilous battle singlehanded; we look to you for support; we ask you not to incur danger or expense—we desire not the risk of interest or person—we ask you merely to purchase, with your weekly pennies, and read, and mark, and learn, and inwardly digest, our "newspaper," to be called henceforward "THE POOR MAN'S GUARDIAN;" which will contain "news, intelligence, and occurrences," and "remarks and observations thereon," and "upon matters in Church and State, tending," decidedly, "to excite hatred and contempt of the Government and Constitution of the tyranny of this country, as BY LAW established," and also "to vilify the ABUSES of Religion"—and will be "printed in the United Kingdom, for sale; and published periodically" (every Saturday) "in yearly parts and weekly numbers, at intervals not exceeding twenty-six days, and will not exceed two sheets, and will be published for a less sum than Sixpence" (to wit) the sum of ONE PENNY, "exclusive of the postage."

To the Merchants, Clothiers, and all such as wish to sell in the Single Manufactory of this Nation.
The Humble Address and Petition of Thousands, who labour in the CLOTH-MANUFACTORY,

SHEWETH,
THAT the SCRIBBLING-MACHINES have thrown thousands of your petitioners out of employ, whereby they are brought into great distress, and deprived them of the opportunity of bringing up their children to labour: we have therefore to request, that prejudice and self-interest may be laid aside, and that you may pay that attention to the following facts, which the nature of their case requires.

The number of scribbling-machines, extending about seventeen miles south-west of Leeds, exceed all belief, being no less than one hundred and seventy! and as each machine will do as much work in twelve hours, as ten men can in that time do by hand, (speaking within bounds) and they working night and day, one machine will do as much work in one day, as would otherwise employ ten men.

OUR CAPTURED CORRESPONDENT.

MR. WINSTON CHURCHILL'S GALLANTRY.

The gallantry displayed by Mr. Winston Churchill, one of our War Correspondents, in the fight at Chieveley, has excited the greatest admiration, as the following extracts show :

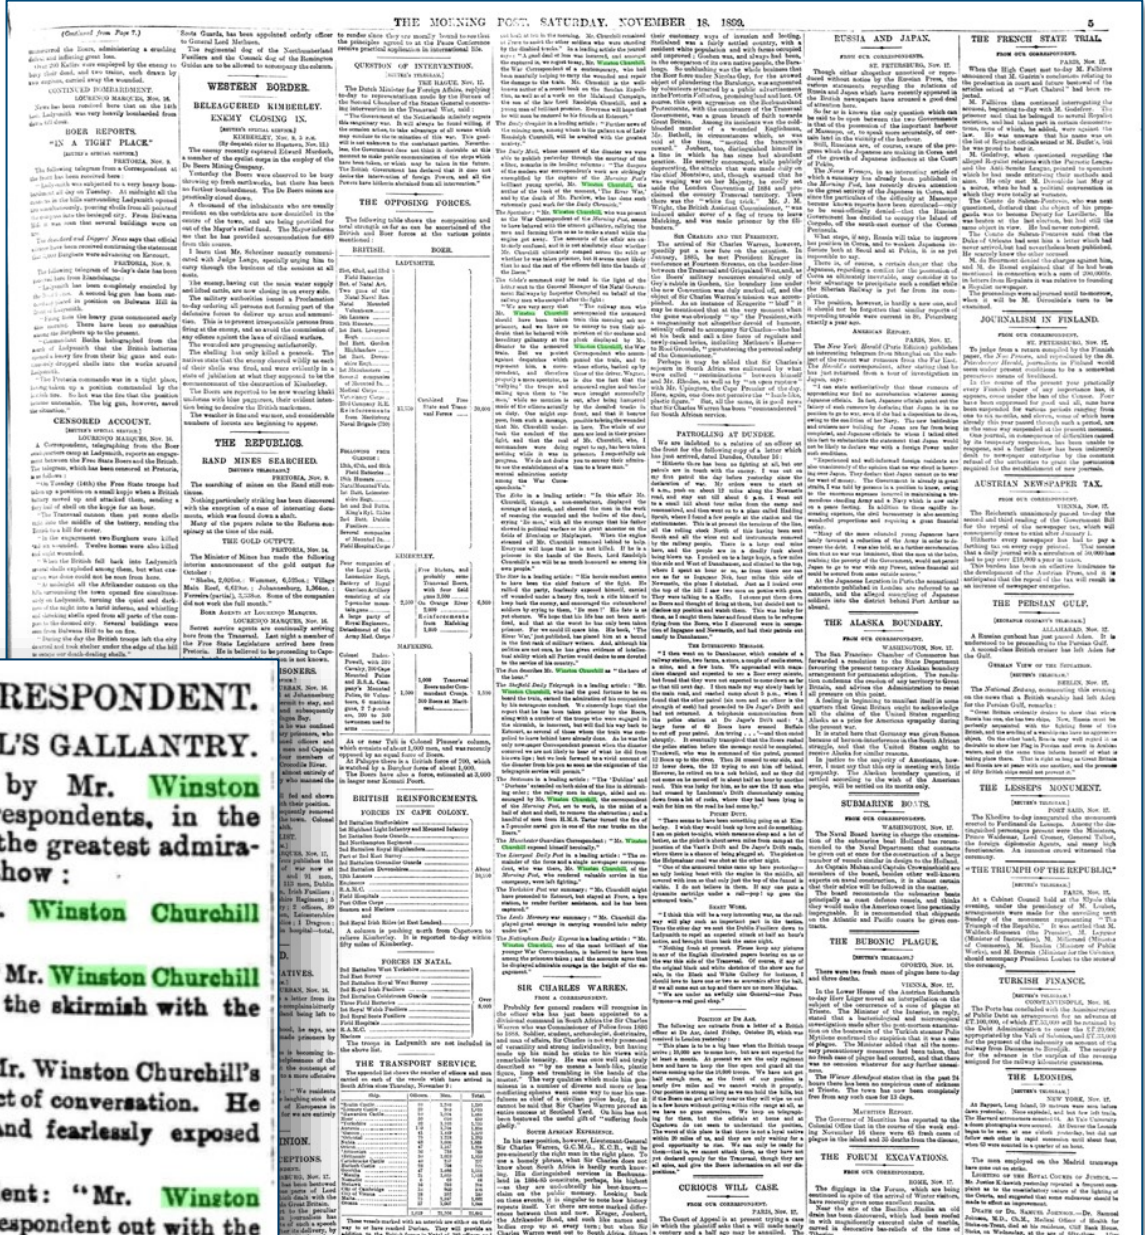

The Times Correspondent: "Mr. Winston Churchill behaved most gallantly."

The Standard in a leading article: "Mr. Winston Churchill is said to have behaved during the skirmish with the greatest coolness and courage."

The Daily News Correspondent: "Mr. Winston Churchill's heroic conduct is the general subject of conversation. He rallied the party frequently, and fearlessly exposed himself."

The Daily Telegraph Correspondent: "Mr. Winston Churchill, who was the only Correspondent out with the
